

SOCKPUPPETS AND FRANKLINITES (2 pages)

A list of various online identities used by Rosalind Miriam Franklin to attack others, or to show apparent 'independent support' for herself or her businesses; or, to post misleading messages in support of one of her other false identities such as the end-times-prophet 'Miriam' Franklin

The list below does not include the dozens of false ID's used to post glowing testimonials on the Diggory Press website before it was shut down, nor the multiple online identities created daily by Mrs Franklin to cover her tracks. In many of the below cases we have IP addresses confirming they came from the same source. In other cases the 'author' somehow has insider knowledge that could only have come directly from Mrs Franklin; in other examples the spelling, grammar and syntax is clearly identifiable. However, in all cases, the named poster has either refused to prove their identity, ignored the request, or lied further about their identity. Features in italics have been disputed by certain third parties, but unfortunately, the individuals themselves – as well as these 'third parties' who have indignantly claimed these listings are erroneous, have not as yet categorically disproved that they are not sockpuppets of Mrs Franklin.

'Franklinites' is a newly-devised term to describe (possibly?) well-intentioned, but naïve supporters of 'Miriam' the end-times-prophetess, who have inadvertently become embroiled in this drama. Worthy of note is 'peacebringer' (aka Tim Blake) who I regret to say has, in my opinion, made serious errors of judgement in (i) allowing Mrs Franklin and various clandestine 'others' to misuse his 'peacebringer' blog, and (ii) has erred in publicly castigating me for supposed 'deception' for compiling this list. Although as of March 2010 Tim Blake has withdrawn any public support of Mrs Franklin, and has also apologised for some of his previous online comments, I remain deeply troubled that apparently sincere people would go to battle on Mrs Franklin's behalf, before doing their research properly.

*May 2009; Mrs Franklin now masks her false identities behind 'anonymous' software designed to prevent other online users knowing where she is posting from. We suspect there are dozens more aliases, and will update the site as-and-when we uncover them. Meanwhile, if anyone has any reason to object to any name being listed here – please email me with your reasons and proofs. Thank you.

Feb 2010: Mrs Franklin has re-launched two new defamatory websites under various guises. One is immediately pulled from circulation, but the legal technicalities of webhosting seem to be allowing her to continue her defamatory activities after simply removing her targets' first names from a number of posts.. Hopefully the webshosters will do the responsible thing sooner rather than later..

March 2010: Readers should be made aware that certain third parties who have also been exposed on the Rogues Gallery have a vested interest in joining forces with Mrs Franklin in her various contrived attempts to destroy the good names and reputations of those of us who have exposed them. I now have reason to believe that some of the sockpuppets on the list above are indeed these individuals; KB, GB, JPB, MKA, NF etc in disguise.. But whatever attacks are levelled at us does not alter the fact that these are proven rogues and fraudsters whose motives for attempting to discredit their detractors is painfully transparent.

 Please note: If anyone has any objection to any of these names being listed in association with a proven fraudster and criminal – please email me in the strictest confidence at stmphd@mail.com with your comments and proofs, and I will do my best to accommodate your concerns.*

Kind regards,

Stephen
